

My dear Little Flower,

Music plays a vital role in our worship and liturgy, serving as a powerful medium to communicate and proclaim the Word of God. Through hymns and sacred songs, the message of the Gospel is not only spoken but deeply felt, resonating within the hearts of the congregation. Music has a unique ability to transcend words, touching the soul and making the divine more accessible. It brings our parish family together, uniting us in a shared expression of faith and devotion. In song, we find a common voice, lifting our hearts in praise and fostering a profound sense of unity within our community. I am grateful that Giovanni Longo is joining our Little Flower team this weekend as Pastoral Associate for Music Ministries. I chose him from among all our applicants because I believe that he will do great things with us! Giovanni, I hope you'll feel right at home at Little Flower, and I encourage all our parishioners to stop by the choir area this weekend to welcome Giovanni.

Your parish priest,
Fr. JC Merino
